

Early Years Management Letter Jan -2023

“ All life on earth emanates from the green of the plant” – Jay Kordich.

The month of January focused on learning more about plant life. Our tiny tots during the nature walk developed a keen eye to observe and discover, mesmerising details in the plants and trees. They were thrilled to experience the planting activity and be able to watch closely the seeds germinate in its time. The little fingers are now very busy discovering the ability to do things on its own with almost no help. Each day is new and special as we see these tiny humans are turning out to be fine and seasoned with the routine called life. Makes us swell with pride!
